ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—The new head of State Investigation Commission says hearings stemming from last Friday's Upstate gambling raids may reveal possible ties between gamblers and city officials.

Goodman A. Sarachan, 61, of Rochester, who succeeds Buffalo's John W. Ryan Jr., as chairman Sunday under the commission's rotation system, also said there may be hearings in all 25 Upstate communities raided.

No Politics: Sarachan

"There will be hearings in some of the communities which were raided, possibly in all of them," he said in an interview Friday.

"We may possibly bring out connections between professional gamblers and public officials," Sarachan, a Democrat, said. Politics play no part in the gambling probe.

He said he had heard charges by Democrats in some cities that the raids were intended to undercut their election campaigning. Ryan, the outgoing commissioner, is a Republican.

"I'm just as good a Democrat as any of them," Sarachan said. "We just don't think in terms of politics and never have since the commission was created."

Up to Interviews

Myles Lane of New York City, a Democrat, and Republican Jacob Grumet of New York round out the four-man commission. Each member serves as chairman for six months.

A commission spokesman said that a decision to hold public gambling hearings will depend on results of interviews scheduled with about 30 persons subpoenaed in Buffalo.

The first, scheduled for Friday, was postponed until Thursday by the commission. No reason was given.

140 Arrested

Most of those subpoenaed were among the 56 charged here after State Police hit scores of numbers and bookmaking establishments. Approximately 140 persons were arrested throughout Upstate New York in the raids.

Most of the striking steelworkers are in Western New York.

State Idle Hits 60,000 as Result Of Steel Strike

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Nearly 60,000 workers are idle in New York State because of the steel strike.

The total includes 30,000 striking steelworkers and 28,300 laid off by industries that have curtailed operations because of steel shortages.

Industries dependent on steel laid off 7,000 persons this week, Industrial Commissioner Martin P. Catherwood said Friday. The new layoffs were mainly in the Buffalo and metropolitan New York areas.

No Trace Found of Plane, 27 Craft Disappears In Virginia Area

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP)—A twin-engine airliner with 27 persons aboard disappeared Friday night five minutes before it was to make a routine landing at this college town in the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains.

Weather Hampers Hunt

About 100 searchers slogged through muck and underbrush during the night but by midmorning still had not found a trace of the missing Piedmont Airlines DC3. A steady drizzle, fog and mist hampered a planned air search.

The plane, en route from Washington to Roanoke, Va., checked in with the local airport tower at 8:24 p.m. (EST) and received landing instructions. That was the final word. The airliner had fuel to last only until 11 p.m.

Piedmont officials withheld the names of the 24 passengers pending notification of next of kin. Crew members aboard were Capt. George Larrin, the pilot; Lee Haley, the first officer; and George Hicks, the purser. No home addresses were available immediately.

Planes Wait for Break

Maj. Charles A. Rausch, Civil Air Patrol commander for the central Virginia area, said between 20 and 30 fixed-wing aircraft from as far away as Massachusetts are waiting for a break in the weather to join the search.

Reports of hearing a low-flying airplane trickled in from throughout a four-county central Virginia area. Rausch said as soon as two reports come from the same location the search would be centered there.

A single-engine private plane with a Piedmont pilot as observer took off at 9:30 a.m., flying beneath a ceiling that shrouded the tops of surrounding mountain peaks, to check out a report of an explosion about 25 miles north of here.

Reports of Explosion

At one time the search was centered near the hamlet of Ruckersville, about 16 miles northeast of here, after several unconfirmed reports had been received of a low-flying plane and an explosion. The searchers, using special vehicles brought in from as far away as Richmond, covered an area of about 20 miles radius during the night but planned to expand the coverage area today.

The terrain around this town, home of the University of Virginia, is rolling country side. Many farms and estates and dense woods dot the area.

Idaho Indian to Run

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—A north Idaho Indian has announced as a candidate for U.S. senator. Joseph R. Garry said here Friday he will run as a Democrat for the seat now held by Idaho Republ. can Henry C. Dworshak.

KHS, Vincentian Football Contest Is Rained Out

Today's scheduled football game between Kingston High School and Vincentian Institute of Albany has been postponed because of a heavy rain which has made Dietz Stadium unsuitable.

Coach Bill Burke of Kingston said the game will not be rescheduled because the only date available to Kingston, Election Day, cannot be worked into the Vincentian schedule because of examinations.

A DCSL game between Saugerties High and Roosevelt High at the East Park field in Dutchess County has been postponed until Monday.

Just before press time, all other scheduled games in the area were expected to be played.

Changes Started Early

James G. Lindsley, the first mayor (1872-1877) was Republican, followed by William Lounsbury (1878-1879) and others of that party followed at intervals.

Among the earlier Republican mayors (before 1900) were John Newkirk (1888-89) and Henry E. Wieber (1896-97). James E. Phinney followed to start the new century.

John E. Kraft (1890-91) and William D. Brinnier (1898-99) were among the earlier Democratic mayors, and Morris Block (1902-05) was the first in the new century.

Two Republicans, A. Wesley Thompson (1906-07) and Walter P. Crane (1907-09) followed, and then came a Democrat, Roscoe Irwin (1910-13). The Republicans put Palmer Canfield Jr., in office (1914-21). He was followed by Walter P. Crane, who won again as a Republican (1922-23) after which the Democrats won again with Block (1924-26).

Edgar J. Dempsey, who had been elected as a Republican alderman-at-large, took office Nov. 8, 1926, after the death of Mayor Block. He was later elected to the office, serving through 1931, and was the first local mayor to serve in depression years.

The majority of the city's mayors have won the office on the Republican ticket, but since 1900 almost every second or third mayor has been a Democrat, and again Tuesday an incumbent seeks re-election on the Democratic ticket against a Republican candidate Addison Jones.

Eugene B. Carey, Democrat, followed by Dempsey (1932-33), Harry B. Walker, Republican, elected in the next election, resigned Jan. 1, 1934, and because of a technicality pertinent to his status as a property holder when elected, both Carey and Conrad Heiselman, Republican alderman-at-large, claimed the right to serve as mayor.

Heiselman was finally legally declared mayor and through re-election served through 1941; he was followed by William F. Edelmann, Democrat (1942-47). Then came two Republicans, Oscar V. Newkirk (1948-53) and Frederick H. Stang (1954-57) and in-

High Court Will Hear USW Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed to hear the United Steelworkers Union's appeal of a Taft-Hartley law injunction that would send the striking steelworkers back to work for 80 days.

This means the 109-day-old strike will continue at least until next week, when the court makes its decision on whether to let the injunction stand. The court set

Tuesday for oral arguments.

Triumph for Union

The high court's action Friday was a triumph for the union, which is attacking the basic constitutionality of the Taft-Hartley strike-ending procedures. This process has never had a review by the Supreme Court in its 80 years of existence.

The government contends the strike is affecting national health and safety. It fought the union's request for a review, saying the constitutional arguments are "clearly without merit" and "there is no need for further review by this court."

If the Supreme Court had declined to hear the case, it would have left standing the ruling of a Philadelphia appeals court that the injunction is legal and valid.

The appeals court had upheld the original decision of a Pittsburgh federal judge who issued the injunction.

of Elections, appeared for the board and County Attorney Arthur A. Davis Jr., appeared for the county.

Mrs. and Mrs. Alison Marson of New York appeared in person.

Brought in Names

During the examination of Mrs. Elizabeth Hanel, Democratic inspector of elections from the first Shandaken District, it developed that the names of the challenged applications for absentee ballots in that district had been brought to the polling place shortly before closing time by Mrs. Marie Koenig, who was accompanied by Marshall Yerry, Democratic candidate for sheriff of Ulster County.

Mrs. Hanel said Mrs. Koenig, a former Kingston Democratic supervisor from the Ninth ward and wife of former County Treasurer Joseph Koenig, came in and presented a list of names and asked if any of the names on the list appeared on the register. Some of the names did. Many of the applications for absentee ballots were notarized by Mrs. Koenig. Mrs. Hanel said there was no objection to entering of the names on the register after a discussion on whether they were property owners in the town.

When Mrs. Koenig and Marshall Yerry entered the polling place, Mrs. Hanel said Mrs. Koenig spoke to her, and later Martin Johnson, a Republican committee man asked to see the list of names.

Johnson said there appeared to be something "crooked" and after looking at the list said there were a few who should be challenged. However he left the polling place and after a "discussion" by the inspectors of election the names were entered on the register.

Eligibility Discussed

Mrs. Catherine Greenberg, a Democratic inspector of elections in the third district, said four applications for absentee ballots from that district had been received. The names were brought to the polling place by Mrs. Koenig and Yerry and the names were "put on the book" after a discussion as to eligibility of the four persons. These four had voted previously in Brooklyn and Schenectady.

It was stipulated that if the same questions had been asked in regard to the second district, the facts would have been substantially the same.

James Sikut Jr., administrative assistant to the New York City Board of Elections, produced photostatic copies of the New York voting registers showing that many of those who sought to vote absentee ballots in Shandaken were registered in New York and were qualified voters there.

In Default, Taylor Rules

In striking the names of those who had not appeared either in person or by counsel from the registers, Justice Taylor held that since they had been served with the order and had not responded, they were "in default" and had no "standing" in court.

At the outset of the argument Attorney Kellar moved to dismiss the show cause order on the grounds the Ulster County Board of Elections had reviewed the 75 applications for absentee ballots, had approved them and that this constituted a "judicial" findings and the Court had no jurisdiction to review the matter. His motion was denied by Justice Taylor and the matter proceeded. Kellar also contended since the matter dated back to October 10 and no proceeding had been taken until October 30, the petitioners were guilty of "laches" and the petition should be denied.

Harry E. Howard, Kingston member of the County Alcoholic Beverage Control Board, testified in an application for a summer license, Antonio Gonzalez and his partner had given Astoria and Long Island City addresses as their home.

Applicants Eligible: Board

At the close of petitioner's case Democratic Commissioner of Elections Joseph Epstein asked to be heard. He said the board of elections had acted in good faith in receiving the applications for absentee ballots. They are feeling the pinch.

Sam N. Mann, Democratic candidate for alderman-at-large in 1931, lost to C. J. Heiselman, Republican, by only 12 votes. Carey that year defeated C. Ray Everett, Republican, by 408 votes. In 1945 Schwenk defeated Ernest M. Heppner, Democratic candidate for alderman-at-large by 92 votes.

In 1953, another close contest elected Frederick H. Stang mayor by 51 votes over Gerald Fitzgerald, Democrat, while Joseph Kelly, his running mate, polled a lead of 1,726 over Thomas F. Coughlin. In 1955, however, Stang won over Edelmann told The Freeman shortly before press time that three persons are known dead. No further details were available.

The Eisenhower and Heaton comments were made to newsmen as the President and the Army officer stood on the porch of the hospital.

CRESTVIEW, Fla. (AP) — A plumber's error plunged this town of 10,000 persons into a night of terror.

Five persons were injured in three explosions Friday night after butane gas gushed into the city water system.

Mayor Harry Booth said the plumber got his lines mixed while working at a small Negro cafe and hooked a gas line from a 250-gallon tank onto a water main. Butane gas is used for heating.

The cafe was almost destroyed and a 5-year-old Negro boy, Larry Thompson, was injured.

A short while later Carolyn Eiland Kennedy started to brush her teeth at her father's home. When she turned on the water spigot, gas fumes reached a pilot light on heater in the bathroom and an explosion followed. She and father, Arthur Eiland, were slightly injured.

The third explosion occurred at the home of Miss Elizabeth Dennis, supervisor of lunchrooms for the county school system. She and a teacher, Miss Lillie Waldron, were injured. Those two and young Larry were hospitalized.

The district attorney said Pugach had got in touch with Newkirk, a former client in a criminal case, a week before the lye attack and said he wanted "some one killed." He agreed to pay $2,000 for the attack, and Newkirk brought in Harden and McMillan, Sullivan said. He added that Pugach had met the three in Central Park the night after the attack and handed over the money.

But the three called on Pugach several times since then demanding more money, Sullivan said. He said Pugach has handed over an additional $1,000.

Miss Riss has filed a million-dollar negligence suit against the city, charging that she had asked for protection after the threat and before the lye attack. She said police denied the protection. Since the attack, she has been under constant police guard.

Plane to Missile Shift Completed By West Powers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Western powers apparently have practically completed a shift in European defense emphasis from bombers to missiles. Two developments make this clear:

1. The United States has agreed to close down its four air bases and one naval base in Morocco.

2. The United States has reached an agreement with Turkey to set up an intermediate-range Jupiter missile base in that country, strategically located on Russia's border.

The issue of the American air bases in Moroccan soil has been politically explosive since the little North African kingdom gained its independence in 1956.

The Moroccans have long wanted the American forces withdrawn. The State Department announced that plans for the withdrawal have been presented to the Moroccan prime minister.

Negotiations for the missile base in Turkey, which will offset the loss of the Moroccan bases, have been under way for some time. Formal agreement was announced Friday.

The abandonment of the air bases follows a change in strategy that began in December 1957.

The Allied high command at that time decided to gradually shift emphasis from bombers, now becoming obsolete in the missile age, to rockets capable of carrying nuclear warheads.

Two Jupiter bases are being set up in Italy. Four squadrons of the 1,500-mile Thor missiles are being delivered to Great Britain.

The Pentagon said Friday it was cutting down the number of Europe-bound Thor squadrons from five to four. The four in Britain remained unchanged. The fifth was to have gone to another country.

But France and West Germany have balked at having these missile bases established on their soil.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has made pointed threats about countries that harbor Allied missile bases. Greece also was approached, but nothing came of it.

At the same time the United States is steadily increasing its force of B52 intercontinental bombers, which can be based in this country.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION

In the general election here Tuesday, voters will decide how the city and county governments will be conducted for the next two years. This is an important decision to make and all eligible voters should have a voice in it.

Offices to be decided this year are those of surrogate, sheriff, coroner on a county-wide poll and mayor and alderman-at-large of Kingston. A board of supervisors for the county and a board of aldermen for the city also will be elected.

In addition to these offices, the voters are asked to decide nine amendments to the state constitution. They will be placed at the top of the voting machine.

Too few eligible voters go to the polls on Election Day. This is a deplorable situation and one that should be of the deepest concern to all citizens. This growing apathy to elections endangers the very future of representative government, which is dependent on active participation of the whole people through the voting process. A large vote does not necessarily guarantee a wise one, but it approaches true expression of the will of the majority.

The time is past for telling people how to vote, but we remind all eligible voters they have a duty to perform on Election Day.

Stand up and be counted as good citizens. Get out and vote.

THOUGHTS ON WALKING

There is a curious idea about that walking is merely an inferior means of locomotion. That is rather like considering all-purpose nutritive pills (if such a thing existed) an improvement over the pleasures of the table.

If walking is looked upon merely as a mode of getting from one place to another, it has obvious shortcomings. It is very slow, in comparison with auto travel; it is tiring; it is simply not adequate for the distances we negotiate each day as a matter of course.

But walking is more than locomotion. Walking is exercise and recreation, a pleasant means of filling the lungs with fresh air and the mind with interesting sensations. A man afoot sees more—and smells, hears, feels more—than the man who zips along in a little room on wheels. The man afoot is in touch with the earth and all his surroundings; the man on wheels merely glides through them with but little refreshment of his sensory nerve ends.

The notion that walking is a last resort to be avoided at all costs is not surprising in a society which venerates the rubber-tired wheel. Yet it is exactly in such a society that walking, because it is no longer necessary, can become a pleasure to be indulged in for its own sake.

The congressional hearings show that some bad things have been going on behind the scenes in television. And some of the things that go on in front of the cameras aren't so hot, either.

WHEN A LIGHT BULB BURNED OUT
There's certainly nothing startling nowadays about the burning out of an electric light bulb. Yet a bulb that burned out 80 years ago, on October 21, 1879, signaled the dawn of a new era of civilization.

This was Thomas A. Edison's first successful bulb. For 40 hours the great inventor and his associates watched the glowing filament. Then he stepped up the voltage until the bulb completed its career in a blaze of glory.

In the span of a man's lifetime electricity has wrought changes which would have challenged the imagination of Jules Verne. In the home, on the farm, in industry, electric power performs innumerable tasks which make life fuller, easier, happier, healthier, better in every way. Today's electrical commonplaces would have been viewed as miracles less than a century ago, and we accept possibilities for the future

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

THE RISE OF BIGOTRY

My mail comes from many sources and often makes no sense, but the volume of hate material increases. Some of it is designed to destroy Jews and blames them for all the evil in the world, but these days most of it is aimed at Roman Catholics. The latest is a circular signed "International Ku Klux Klan / The Neophytes-affiliatus / Former Roman Catholics — now Christians."

No address is given to which one can write to inquire what this is. But when I see a paragraph like this, it seems to me that some devils are at work to stir up trouble among Americans:

"Communism is a piker as compared with Roman Catholicism in her march toward world domination. Persecutions at the hands of Communism can't begin to compare with the persecutions and deaths of Protestants down through the years at the behest of Roman Catholicism. (Rome is still out-of-bounds to Protestant worship.)"

To one who is neither a Catholic nor a Protestant, all this seems historically without any sense, because there was a time when all Christians were Catholics, Roman or Eastern. Even after Nicaea (325 A.D.) the divisions between Trinitarians and Unitarians did not produce as wide a split. Christendom survived the shock of a division of ideas.

The first great split came with the separation of the Byzantine Church from the Roman. This split, however, was ecclesiastical rather than theological. The Eastern Church is Catholic although it does not accept the authority of Rome. Some Eastern churches, however, have joined Rome but keep their own rites and many differences in the discipline of the clergy.

The widest split away occurred after Martin Luther had established form of Christianity, which while accepting the Apostle's Creed and the Nicene Creed, rejected the government of the Church by Rome. At first these changes were principally ecclesiastical and political; subsequently Protestantism became increasingly individualistic in interpretation of Christianity until today there are more than 200 creeds and variations of creeds. But the essence of the Judeo-Christian civilization is the Natural Law.

Never before, during the entire history of Christianity, has any church encountered the organized power of atheism. This should give both the Christian and non-Christian pause because we live in a civilization which has been developing for at least 4,000 years and is based upon the development of thought and practice as they appear in the Bible, the Torah, the Prophets, the Talmud, the Apostles, the Church Fathers and the Medieval philosophers, Jewish, Christian and Moslem. It would be error not to include in this the great thinkers of Greece and Rome, particularly Aristotle whose influence upon Christian thought has been enormous.

Today, for the first time in history, political atheism appears before us as a contestant for control of the thinking of men. Khrushchev, without apology, declared himself to be an atheist and the United States, except in Pittsburgh, bowed to his atheism by avoiding the grace before meals which is essential in the thinking of both Jewish and Christian thought; namely, that no man is the author of his own life and his benefit, but that the fruits of the Earth and the grant of life itself come from God. The grace before meals, particularly on public occasions, is an essential acknowledgment of the dependence upon God.

Unless we believe that our particular civilization must collapse because we believe in social justice, the rights of the individual to form the pattern of his life, because we believe that in the eyes of God, all men are created equal and possess certain unalienable rights. This doctrine is the basic philosophy of American life as incorporated in the Declaration of Independence.

I do not pretend to write a theological dissertation on the Natural Law and its relationship to American civilization, but I do make the point that the Communists and atheists can conquer us intellectually if we insist upon bigoted battling among ourselves over unrealistic issues. Let a man believe as he desires without smashing his neighbor's face for believing differently.

The hate organizations and the hate publications are damaging the United States because they divide the American people. The hate sheets are often so untrueful but there are some who accept anything that is printed as authoritative. The menace is that those who accept this nonsense vote that way, teach their children to believe it, perpetuating hate for generations. America cannot afford such divisions.

The Mature Parent

It's No Question of Blame; It's Matter of Responsibility

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

A young wife, realizing that she didn't love her husband, consulted a psychologist. Her realization was confirmed. On her return from Reno her worried parents invited her to visit them before resuming her job. Two days after her arrival, she blamed her mother for her marital mistake. She said bitterly:

"You brought me up to be afraid of hurting people. You've always looked so injured when I didn't do what you wanted me to do, that all Joe had to do was look injured when I said I didn't want to marry him to make me do it. Your training has made a mess of my life."

Shocked, wounded, her mother refused any responsibility for her marital failure. So, after a painful scene, the girl packed her bags and left to spend the rest of her vacation with a friend.

If her parent had not been so scared of the accusation, she would not have run away to her friend.

Of course, listening to unjust accusation isn't easy. Whether a child blames us for the milk he's spilled or for his marital misjudgment, it is hard to stand by quietly while he accuses us of making his mistakes.

Unless we can perceive that his need to blame us for them is his intolerable guilt at having made them.

Then the accusation goes in one ear and out the other. Instead of rushing to defend ourselves, we can dispense with the need to remind him that he was the person who spilled the milk or chose the wrong marriage partner.

We can ignore the whole problem of who did the terrible thing, and begin to make it appear less terrifying. We can say, "Children often spill their milk" or "Why are you so frightened to cover that you are capable of misjudgment?"

We do not accept the responsibility for what we didn't do; but make it more realistic for the child.

Always another person's need to condemn us for his failures confesses the intensity of his own self-condemnation. If we are interested in justice, we will, of course, insist on his solitary guilt. But if we're interested in him, we will help him take responsibility, not for some fancy self he thinks should be above mistakes but for the real one that will often make them.

(All rights reserved, NEA Service, Inc.)

that would have been dismissed not long ago as insane fiction.

Edison's bulb was the revolution-making achievement of a free man working in a free society. And the great industry which it made possible was and is being built by free men, working together, in a free society.

"I Have Wonderful News--It's His Fault"

Washington News

BY JERRY BENNETT
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) —

Following a New York City Ballet performance here, Capital Theater assistant manager Jack Fox invited a few friends to have a drink. Included in the party were White House Press Secretary Jim Hagerty and a young lady who had just arrived from California.

Upon being introduced to Hagerty, the gal asked brightly, "Are you with the ballet?" The startled press secretary replied, "Not with this one, young lady."

BEST FED man in Washington is French Baron Edmond A. Rieder, new manager of the Sheraton-Carleton Hotel. The hotel's French chef Bernard Bino is an old friend of his.

I DO ANYONE here has reason to distrust the Russians, it's cab driver James C. Glegg. He was driving up 16th Street early one morning when he was shocked to see an oncoming auto in his lane. He pulled over to the curb, crossed his fingers and held his breath. Nothing helped. The other car smacked him head-on.

The driver turned out to be Soviet Embassy clerk Rjurik D. Strelakoff. He was heading home from a party tossed by his boss Naval Attaché Boris D. Yashin.

Glegg wasn't hurt. Strelakoff got a cut nose. Everyone agrees, however, that he is still the luckiest one. He won't have to pay a fine. That's one of the fringe benefits of being a diplomat.

SLICKEST political stunt in years was pulled off here by moviemakers promoting a film about a mythical country called Grand Fenwick. They mailed invitations to diplomats which stated The Ambassador of the Duchy of Grand Fenwick invited them to cocktails, dinner and a premier of the movie.

The cards looked exactly like those used to herald important embassy functions. Upon receiving them, 15 ambassadors called the National Geographic Society to find out the location of Grand Fenwick.

THEY'RE STILL telling stories about the Khrushchev visit:

During Mr. K's New York trip, Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menlikov blew his top when the Harlem tour was cancelled. U. S. officials didn't think there was time enough for Khrushchev to go slumming. Menlikov, however, accused them of trying to hide crummy living conditions from the boss. Angered by the accusation, officials rescheduled the tour.

The result is still a source of deep embarrassment to Menshikov. For Khrushchev's opinion of Harlem was, "This isn't so bad."

KHRUSHCHEV is reported to have been highly skeptical about the supermarket he visited. He thought the food displays were as phony as a Hollywood movie's painted scenery.

That's why he picked up a paper carton of milk and shook it vigorously when he first entered the store. He wanted to find out if there was really milk inside.

Years ago we had the alchemists. Now we have space scientists. . . . There's a lot of nonsense going on in the field of science under the name of space science. I'm for forgetting this nonsense and keeping our earth science up to date.

BABSON on BUSINESS

By Roger W. Babson

WARSAW, Poland, Oct. 29—Warsaw is the capital of Poland, located not quite midway between Berlin and Moscow. I will not now discuss the government of Poland, although it claims to be a free democracy with officials and "parliament" elected by the people; yet 85% of the property is owned by the municipality or state and practically all of the people work for the government. It is much like Russia in many ways; but its people claim not to be Communists. The Polish people take part in no propaganda, but ask only to be let alone and left free to run their own affairs. They claim to be 100% neutral, but surely appear friendly toward the Russians yet hate the Germans who bombed them unmercifully during World War II.

Continue to Be Courageous

Notwithstanding the barbarous treatment by the Germans, Poland's people continue to be happy and courageous. The people are poor, there being very few automobiles and almost no bicycles. Living costs and taxes are high; but the people are very industrious and saving. Looking out of my hotel window this morning, I counted only three automobiles, but saw five homemade wagons cut from forests and the harnesses made of iron tires from broken cartwheels. Yet Warsaw is now mostly rebuilt and I should be proud to live in it.

Last week, in Germany, I was amazed at the energy of the Germans and noted

School 7 P-TA Hears Plea for College Activity

More than a hundred parents and teachers attended the October 28 meeting of School 7 P-TA. The business portion of the meeting included a report of Cub Pack 13 by Cubmaster Everett Schoen. Parents were told of the activities of the Cubs and the need for additional Cub members and Den mothers.

The question of additional safety measures at crossings were resolved with the appointment of a committee, chaired by Ted Weiner, to discuss school crossings with the police department traffic control.

Mrs. Frieda Dingee, principal, clarified the new bus transportation regulations as they affect School No. 7, and the proposed package lunch supplement to the hot lunch program. The children of the school will be given a choice of a prepared package lunch or a hot lunch.

President Robert Ackert spoke on the need for greater activity toward the development of a Community College. A recommendation to the Board of Education urging the installation of an automatic electrical fire alarm system for School No. 7 was passed.

Psychologist Murray Weiss of the Pupil Service presented an instructive discussion of the history and of the value of a school psychology program. Through testing and interview of child and parent, the causes of maladjustment to school environment are detected and referred to local psychiatric services for treatment. The withdrawn and fearful child can be returned to a useful and successful school life.

A social and refreshment period followed the meeting.

Panel to Discuss Zen Philosophy Thursday at Paltz

The Humanities Division of the State University of Education, New Paltz, is sponsoring a panel discussion on Zen philosophy, scheduled Thursday in the College Union at 4 p.m.

Zen philosophy is a form of Japanese Buddhism which enjoys a great vogue in this country at present.

Participants in the panel discussion will be Dr. Hugo Münsterberg, professor of Art History at the College, who spent four years in Japan, and Dr. Edward J. Nauss, assistant professor of philosophy, who will discuss the philosophical problems involved in Zen.

Also included among the participants will be two students: Dan Bassen, a junior from Poughkeepsie, who will discuss what Zen means to the "Beat Generation," and Miss Anita Stippa, sophomore from New York City, who will discuss what it means to modern man.

The discussion is open to all interested persons from the college as well as the public.

Art Week Is Set For November 1-7

Mayor Edwin F. Radel today proclaimed Nov. 1 to 7 "Art Week," and called attention to an exhibit of paintings depicting Hudson Valley scenes in the city hall.

They are to be shown, as part of the city's observance of the state's Year of History, in the reception room of the mayor's office.

The mayor noted a nationwide growing interest in art and he observed that with the city's "close proximity to a village famed as a leading art colony, this interest has spread to encompass many people of our city." He recalled exhibits at Academy Green and other locations in the city, as an indication of growing local interest in art.

It is estimated that about 60 million buffalo roamed the North American continent in the 18th Century.

FACTS Attention WOODSTOCK Voters

There NEVER has been an "investigation" that some political party has not sought to use for SMEAR purposes.

DON'T BE MISLED THESE ARE THE FACTS

The records of every township, including Woodstock, have been in the hands of the Special Assistant Attorney General since September 1958.

There have been NO CHARGES of any kind or nature AGAINST ANY WOODSTOCK TOWN OFFICIAL.

DOES NOT IMPLY ANY WRONG

It has been frequently stated by Special Attorney General Tompkins that appearances of witnesses before the grand jury does not imply that the witnesses are involved in any wrong.

The Purchase of road equipment in January of this year was completely in accordance with law, at the lowest bid price from the local franchise dealer.

The FACTORY PRICE was $645.00 higher.

The indictments are against the BIDDERS for allegedly getting together before submitting.

WOODSTOCK STILL BOUGHT AT THE LOWEST PRICE.

Catskill Hotel Names Kingston Man as Manager

Edward W. Cunningham of East Union Street, who has served on the managerial staff of two local hotels, was named manager of the New Saulpaugh Hotel in Catskill, it was announced Thursday.

The appointment is effective immediately.

Cunningham has had over 20 years on the staffs of Kingston's leading hotels.

He became a member of the staff of Governor Clinton Hotel in 1935 working eight years in all departments. During that time he attended the American Hotel Corp. school and became assistant manager.

Upon his return to civilian life after three years in the Army, two of them in Europe, Cunningham accepted the position of assistant manager of the Stuyvesant Hotel, now known as the new Hotel Kingston. He held this position for 12 years and eventually became manager.

When the Stuyvesant was sold he entered the real estate field. He had been serving as general manager of the New Kingston Hotel at the time of his appointment to Catskill.

Prominent in related hotelmen's organizations, he is a past president of the Mid-Hudson Chapter of Hotel Greeters of America, and is currently first vice commander of St. Ignatius Loyola Post 1769, Catholic War Veterans of Kingston; Kingston Post 150, American Legion; Joyce-Schirick Post 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars; Kingston Council 275, Knights of Columbus, and the Holy Name Society.

Well-known in bowling circles, he is a member of a number of bowling leagues.

The National Wildlife Federation offers scholarships up to $1,000 in conservation education.

Veterans' Rights Benefits Listed

By Charles L. Culver, NYS Veteran Counselor, NYS Division of Veterans Affairs, and John B. Tyler, Director of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency.

Housing—A new group of severely disabled veterans has been made eligible for homes with special facilities under the provisions of PL 86-239. This new law makes eligible for special housing certain seriously disabled veterans who have compensable service-connected permanent and total disabilities, which includes "(A) Blindness in both eyes, having only light perception, plus (B) loss of use of one lower extremity, and such permanent and total disability is such as to preclude locomotion without the aid of a wheelchair."

It is important to note that to be considered as eligible for this special housing aid a veteran needs to have the loss or loss of use of one lower extremity which precludes locomotion without the aid of a wheelchair, in addition to having blindness in both eyes, having only light perception. The necessity of having both conditions is emphasized because it was erroneously reported in this column a few weeks ago, on the basis of a misprint in advanced information on this law, that a veteran only had to have either of these two conditions to be considered eligible.

New Laws—All active service performed in the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps after May 13, 1942 and before September 30, 1943 now counts for all purposes except promotions provided that a WAAC performed active service in the Armed Forces after September 29, 1943. Before this new law, PL 86-142, was passed, WAAC service counted for hospitalization and for other purposes if a Waac was prevented from serving in the Women's Army Corps after September 29, 1943 because of disability incurred while on active service as a WAAC.

Bonus—An increasing number of inquiries are being made concerning whether there is a New York State bonus for Korean veterans. No Korean bonus legislation was enacted during the 1959 session of the New York State Legislature. Bonus legislation in NYS requires a Constitutional Amendment approved by two successive State Legislatures, after which it is submitted to the voters for their approval. There is no NYS Korean bonus now in effect, and due to Constitutional processes, the earliest a bonus could be paid in this state if enacted would be 1962.

Insurance—Payment to beneficiaries on Government insurance policies may be made in a lump sum or in monthly installments ranging from three years to life. Settlement of a policy may be made under one option or under a combination of options. For instance, a lump sum payment of $1,000 may be elected together with a payment of $9,000 over a period of 20 years. The veteran insured under a GI policy may select any option for payment of his insurance upon his death. However, only he can indicate a lump sum payment. If he does not choose this method of payment the beneficiary cannot be paid in a lump sum.

Questions about the rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen or their dependents may be submitted for individual attention to the NYS Division of Veterans Affairs and the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency at 32 Main Street, Kingston, N. Y.

Try Hemlock Panel

If you want something a little different for an accent wall, try paneling it with a prestige wood like vertical grain west coast hemlock. Instead of installing the panel boards vertically, the usual way, place them diagonally on the wall for a distinctive contemporary touch. Hemlock should be finished clear to capture its unusually champagne coloring.

Doubles as Dryer

Some foods such as salt and crackers should ideally be stored in less moist air than is found in the average home. To keep crackers crisp and salt unbroken, build a cabinet on the wall above your refrigerator. Warm air rises continually from the back of the refrigerator. If you cut a slot or hole in the bottom for the cabinet, warm air will flow into it and keep the contents dry.

Which Brush?

When it comes to painting, a wide brush will cover more area and therefore speed up the job but it is also heavier and that means you'll get tired faster than with a smaller brush. The rule is to try and use a brush as wide as possible that you can easily handle comfortably for several hours.

Shellac Wallpaper

If you plan to put new wallpaper over old, coat the old paper with a thin layer of shellac first. This gives the new paper a smooth surface to adhere to and prevents bleeding of colors from the old paper.

Should Be Square

The edge of a screwdriver should be square. When the edges become rounded, square them off with a file and be sure that the end of the screwdriver is blunt, not sharpened to a point.

Mexico City, with a population of 4 1/2 million, is the second largest city in the Western Hemisphere.

"The Almac" lends itself to just about any type of exterior finish; a combination of shingles and painted bricks is used in the illustration with very attractive results. Colorful blinds and roofing will brighten up and enhance the exterior appearance of the house.

Measuring 41 ft. x 25 ft., "The Almac" requires at least a 75 foot lot. Cubage of the house is 20,500 feet; cubage of the garage is 5,900 feet. Border plantings are suggested to dress up the appearance of the house and yard.

Largest and most attractive of the five rooms in "The Almac" is the living room. Designed to double as a dining room, this comfortable room owes much of its decorative charm and pleasant appeal to the three windows which make up the front wall of the room.

There are just two regular bedrooms in "The Almac" but there is another room which can be used as a third bedroom if you so desire. This room can very conveniently serve as a den or guest room if you do not need three bedrooms.

Conveniently near to the bedrooms, the all modern bath is also near to the kitchen—a fact appreciated by the housewife when she's busy at her household tasks as well as when the youngsters make their seemingly endless trips in and out of the back door through the kitchen.

Arranged and equipped as a work center, the good sized

Painting New Plaster Different Problem

Painting new plaster presents problems different from any other type of wall painting. The two or three coats of plaster take considerable time to dry out. But that isn't all; the ingredients in plaster tend to bleed through most initial coats of paint and create spots. Usually a prime coat of special covering is desirable before the paint is applied. There are commercial preparations for this purpose. Shellac is a good primer for new plaster. Rubber-base paints will do better on new plaster walls than the ordinary oil-base paints. Some of the rubber-base paints have a special "undercoater" which should be applied first.

Vanity Lavatories

Countertop or vanity lavatories may be purchased as prefabricated units from a plumbing contractor or the bowl may be bought separately for mounting in a custom-built cabinet to carry out an individual motif in bathroom decor. Vanity lavatories which provide a dressing table in the bathroom are popular with women, says the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau.

Dampen Sandpaper

Sandpaper will last longer, work better, and resist cracking if the paper back is dampened slightly.

Bleaching Retains Beauty of Cedar

Bleaching of cedar to subdue the rich autumn colors of the wood and yet retain its natural beauty is receiving preference from many architects.

Especially in paneling and where western red cedar lumber is used as exposed ceiling decking, a white primer coat is brushed on and wiped off immediately.

After thoroughly drying, the wood is sanded with 60 paper and clear varnish is brushed on. Rub the last coat with 4-0 steel wool for best results. The wood should first be sanded with 2-0 paper.

REPUBLICANS SAVE CITY

$250,000

The Urban Renewal was considered a bi-partisan matter . . .

The Democratic Candidate for Mayor has seen fit to inject it into the present mayoralty campaign.

He has stated that the Democrats were in favor of this program during the last Republican Administration but that the Republican Majority turned it down. The Republican majority did hold it back for further study — pending last Fall's statewide referendum—As a result of that referendum and the Republican Watchdog attitude the cost to the city will be reduced from one-third of the cost to one-sixth of the cost or in round figures the taxpayers of Kingston through the watchful waiting of the Republicans in the Common Council will save upwards of $250,000.

NEW PALTZ NEWS

MABEL DEUPY

Board of Directors of the Park and Recreation Association early this week reelected Ashton W. Hart president.

Anthony Moriello was elected vice president, Mrs. John Weaver, treasurer, and Viola Heath, secretary. David W. Corwin was re-appointed park attorney.

After Douglas reported that William Parker, in a skin diving outfit, plugged up the two outlets in the pool last Sunday. This was done to drain the pipes in winterizing the pool and filter system.

Hart stated that it is not too soon to begin reorganizing the pool program for next year and asked Dr. Charles Wolbers and Douglas to start planning now.

Dr. Wolbers had been director of pool activities for the past two years and Douglas served as part time lifeguard this year.

The board, through Corwin, has applied for an extension of the mortgage on the park property in the amount of $4,500 to the Homeseekers Savings and Loan Association, Kingston. This money will enable the board to pay the entire cost of this year's construction. The board discussed the purchase of a chlorinator next summer to work in conjunction with the filter system.

The meeting was held at the home of Hart on Route 208. Also present were Mesdames Heath, Hurley and Weaver; Judd Reiner, and Mrs. Thomas McKinney.

Trustee Klix suggested posting stop signs on Lookout Avenue.

Town Clerk Freedburgh read a bill from the railroad for services rendered; totaling $1,214.98. Members of the board felt that this was not a true picture and will turn the bill over to an attorney to take up with the railroad. Clerk Freedburgh also reported that according to the new railroad act, the village is limited to the amount it may tax the railroad.

Trustee Klix requested the board to take part in the 75th anniversary commemoration of the founding of the New Paltz college. Although the program is not fully planned as yet, Mayor DuBois expressed a keen interest in the development of the program and stated that the board will do its utmost in cooperating with any of the college's plans.

The board studied the matter of the faulty sidewalk on Wurts Avenue. The village will pay a percentage of the construction cost along with the property owners. However, at present the village is not liable for injuries incurred on the sidewalk until it has been presented with a formal notification as to the condition of this sidewalk.

The problem of a washout on the north side of Mulberry Street was reviewed by the board. They felt this was a common concern of both the village and the town as part of the street is out of the village. It was Trustee Jansen's opinion that water from Prospect Street has been running down and causing washouts on the street. The board decided that it was necessary to fill in the ditch caused by the water and if necessary put in a storm sewer before

He further states that there will be discounts all day on many items. Refreshments will be served, and friends are welcome.

If Steel Workers Sent Back, Law May Keep Them

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) If the 500,000 steel strikers are sent back to work by a Taft-Hartley injunction the government is determined to keep them there by legislation if necessary, says Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller.

The secretary disclosed this afternoon he stands by his stand after reviewing the impact of the 109-day shutdown with his Business Advisory Council in closed sessions here Friday.

President David J. McDonald of the United Steelworkers has given notice that, if the union loses its Supreme Court fight against issuance of the 80-day injunction, his men will walk out again when the court order expires.

A midwinter resumption of the strike would so disrupt the economy, Mueller said, that he was sure "very sure" President Eisenhower would recommend action by Congress.

The secretary said he could not now predict what legislation Eisenhower might seek but it might be law forcing the parties to arbitrate. Management and labor alike have long resisted compulsory arbitration of disputes.

Man With Grafted Leg May Not Walk For Three Years

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — It may be three years before Billy Smith can walk—and that isn't certain—but it's a miracle that he still has his right leg.

This is the substance of a report by two of the three surgeons at a news conference Friday. It was their 4½-hour operation that saved the 25-year-old laborer's limb July 22.

Smith's leg was crushed and severed when he was struck by a crane on a construction project. The surgeons, who requested anonymity, said he was brought to Eden Hospital so promptly and was in such healthy condition that they decided to try to graft the leg back.

The leg was severed three inches above the knee.

Smith will be in the hospital for months. His leg is being held high to prevent clots. It will be about three years before the nerves grow back to the tip of his toes.

Baptist Cleric Is Lauded by Police For Saving Eight

SALAMANCA, N. Y. (AP)—Police said a Baptist minister saved eight children from possible injury or death Friday night when he sped a bus to the other side of the bridge after the bridge floor buckled.

Part of the 200-foot iron bridge crumbled seconds after the bus reached the other side, Cattaraugus County sheriff's deputies said.

The bridge is 15 feet above the Allegheny River where it crosses it at nearby Quaker Bridge.

The Rev. Ralph E. Bowen of the Red House Baptist Church in Quaker Bridge was driving the children to a religious service, police said.

Three of them, including his 12-year-old daughter, Jacqueline, and Donna and Deanna John, 15-year-old twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd John of Quaker Bridge were hospitalized here with leg and head injuries.

Police said they jolted when part of the bus dropped into a breach in the bridge floor.

McKneally Again Warns 40 & 8 to Lift Bias Stand

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The national commander of the American Legion said Friday the 40&8 society, the legion's fun-making organization, has been warned it must lift its racial restrictions or face disciplinary action.

Commander Martin B. McKneally told a press conference here he is prepared to take the 40&8's ban against all but "white" members to court, and sever connections between it and the legion if necessary. The legion itself has no racial or religious restrictions.

John Hobble, national 40&8 commander, was contacted at his home in Liberal, Kan., but declined comment. "I have not engaged in any controversy with him (McKneally) and I have no desire to do so," he said.

"The situation is in the hands of the lawyers of the legion and the 40&8," McKneally said, "and we have said they must come to terms by the first of December." He is visiting in Kansas City.

The 40&8 voted at the St. Paul convention in August to retain its constitutional membership requirements, which bar Negroes.

Missile Shot Successful

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP)—A GAM-77 Hound Dog air-to-surface missile was launched from under the wing of a B52 Stratofortress Friday night and made a successful flight.

The self-guided flight, the first for a Hound Dog, took it to a predetermined spot hundreds of miles off Florida's East Coast.

The long-range missile was guided by its self-contained inertial autonavigation system, which the Air Force said was foolproof against radar jamming.

The Stratofortress left Eglin for the test, carried out under direction of the Air Research and Development Command.

The capabilities of the 51-foot, supersonic Hound Dog have not been announced.

IBL Is Expected To Rejoin Dock Group in Merger

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The International Brotherhood of Longshoremen was expected to return today to the International Longshoremen's Assn.

Unanimous approval of the merger was voted Friday by delegates to the Great Lakes district convention of the IBL, which represents most of the union's estimated 20,000 members.

All that remained was ratification of the approval at today's special international convention of the IBL. A union spokesman said that this was a formality.

Decision of the IBL members to return to the ILA came after Capt. William Bradley of New York City, president, and other top ILA officers told the IBL delegates to "forget about past differences."

The IBL was dropped from the IBL in 1953 on charges of corruption but its hold on East Coast and Gulf ports never was broken by the IBL which was chartered as a rival union.

Patrick Sullivan of Buffalo, N. Y., secretary-treasurer of the IBL Great Lakes District, said that when the ILA was ousted it was told to get rid of 90 men with the IBL which was chartered as a rival union.

Since that time, he said, the ILA has kicked out about 85 of these men. He added that this was "a pretty good record."

The AFL-CIO recently voted to re-admit the ILA, provided certain conditions were met. One of them was the working out of a satisfactory merger with the IBL.

HOW HALLOWEEN BEGAN—

HALLOWEEN WAS ORIGINALLY AN AUTUMN FESTIVAL OF PAGAN RELIGIONS.. IT WAS A HOLIDAY OF MOURNING, FOR IT MARKED THE PASSING OF THE SUMMER SUN FROM THE EARTH..

THE DRUID PRIESTS AMONG THE CELTS OBSERVED THE DEATH OF SUMMER IN A TERRIFYING CEREMONY FEATURING HUMAN SACRIFICE..

THE OLD PAGAN FESTIVAL BECAME A CHRISTIAN HOLIDAY AND IN 835 A.D. WAS MADE ALL SAINTS' DAY WHICH IS STILL OBSERVED..

FOR ONE LONG NIGHT, ACCORDING TO OLD BELIEFS, TORTURED SPIRITS WERE ALLOWED TO ROAM THE EARTH TO WORK REVENGE UPON THEIR ENEMIES..

OUR EARLY ANCESTORS USED TO CARRY LANTERNS AND CANDLES ON HALLOWEEN TO FRIGHTEN OFF EVIL SPIRITS. FROM THIS CUSTOM CAME THE JACK O' LANTERN..

TODAY HALLOWEEN IS KNOWN AS THE EVE OF ALL SAINTS' DAY, AND IN THE SPIRIT OF HUMOR AND ADVENTURE YOUNG AND OLD DRESS IN EVERY IMAGINABLE COSTUME AND SALLY OUT FOR FUN...

Ford Will Reduce Car Production To Stretch Steel

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co., second largest of the auto industry's big three, will seek to stretch rapidly dwindling steel supplies into December by cutting back on production and scheduling short work weeks.

Ford's move came as General Motors faced the virtual end of all auto output next week. GM, biggest of the auto firms, has laid off 185,000 of its 320,000 hourly rated workers and says thousands more will be sent home next week because of the steel strike.

Modification of production schedules to extend production and employment at least into December was announced Friday by Ford. The company said employees will be put on three and four-day weeks through November.

Ford has 125,000 hourly rated employees.

Original plans had been for Ford to run full five-day weeks until about the middle of November and then cease production. Ford makes about half of its own steel kinds and must be purchased from

Chrysler, the third member of American Motors, still operating six days a week, expects to continue at top output through November. Studebaker-Packard says it can stretch its supplies well into December.

The diocese plans a drive for

An old song counsels us to "carry your cross with a smile." But to do that requires more than the mastery of a technique. Techniques are such ineffective weapons in the great battle of life. Resourceful smiles are not put on the faces of the burdened by long practice before a mirror. Such smiles lack something; no matter how muscle perfect they may be. They lack the priceless quality of sincerity. Adjusting the face to portray a smiling countenance is not what is needed. The cheer that keeps heavy heart loads from being suspected, and that lends encouragement to other travellers on the road of life, is not a practiced feat—but a practiced faith!

Go bury thy sorrow,

The world hath its share;
Go bury it deeply,
Go hide it with care.

Go bury thy sorrow,
Let others be blest;
Go give them the sunshine,
And tell God the rest.

Olivier at Best In 'Sixpence,' But Show Itself Fails

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "There was much in his life that was strange and terrible, in his character something outrageous, and in his fate not a little that was pathetic."

This was Somerset Maugham's portrait of the artist as a middle-aged cad. The artist was Charles Strickland of "The Moon and Sixpence," but everyone besides Maugham concedes him to be Paul Gauguin.

Fascinating Actor

Strickland-Gauguin was brought to life by Laurence Olivier on a 90-minute NBC special taped 10 months ago and televised Friday night. He again proved he is not only the best English-speaking actor but a fascinating one as well.

Olivier was at his best in early portions when he changed from the dullish London stockbroker to the amoral painter of Paris. He played each character with vast skill and made the transition convincingly.

But even Olivier couldn't transform this production of "The Moon and Sixpence" into a major triumph. The fault lies both with Maugham and producer David Susskind.

The story was more a chronicle of a cad than a novel. The result was a succession of scenes in which the artist uses his family and friends badly.

Too Much Off Screen

What drama was in the story was largely muffed by the adaptation. The narration which overlapped the scenes told much of the plot so that many important actions took place off screen.

The dialogue was talky with much idle philosophizing about art, life and love. Much of it seemed dated: "Women are strange little beasts," and then there was Olivier's remarks to his Tahitian bride, "I shall beat you, you know." Her reply: "How else shall I know that love is true?"

The supporting cast was distinguished but the performances were spotty. Geraldine Fitzgerald came off best as the abandoned wife, and Denholm Elliott was right as the Maugham-like writer.

Hume Cronyn had a miserable time as the fellow artist who befriends Olivier and is betrayed by him. Jessica Tandy had little to do as the wife who deserts Cronyn for Olivier. Judith Anderson was miscast as a chuckling South Sea Mammy.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Barbara Struber, sister of the groom, wore a gown of cotillion blue nylon chiffon with a shoulder to shoulder bertha, fitted bodice and draped skirt of chiffon over taffeta. A small matching hat completed her outfit. She carried a cascading bouquet of seed pearls and iridescent sequins. She carried a cascading bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

Miss Mary Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Miller of New Paltz, was married to Richard Rosenkrans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Rosenkrans of Kingston, in the New Paltz Methodist Church Saturday, Oct. 3.

The bride wore a white floor length gown of Alencon lace over broider satin, fashioned with a molded bodice and Sabrina neckline. It had long sleeves ending in points over the wrists. The hooded skirt had a lace panel in front and cascading ruffles of nylon marquesette from waist to hem in the back. Her fingertip length veil was of French silk illusion gathered to a headpiece of seed pearls and iridescent sequins. She carried a cascading bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

St. James Women's Guild Hears Talk On Africa at Supper

The October supper meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild of St. James Methodist Church was held Tuesday.

Mrs. Hazel VanWagenen conducted the business meeting that followed and Miss Mathilda Martin had charge of the devotions.

Mrs. Eleanor Booth, director of the YWCA, was in charge of the program. She chose as her subject "Africa." Mrs. Booth discussed the growth of Africa, from an educational, health, agricultural and religious standpoint. This growth is due largely to the influence of the UN organization.

The Wesleyan Service Guild is an auxiliary to the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church.

Talks Are Still Churning in Hope
Of Milk Contract

NEW YORK (AP)—Milk negotiations resume today in efforts to beat a new deadline for a strike in the metropolitan area.

Negotiators for the Teamsters Union and 311 dairy firms agreed Friday to extend their present contract to 4 p. m. (EST) today. The union originally threatened to strike last Saturday when the contract expired. The pact then was extended to 4 p. m. Friday, then to 6 p. m. and finally to today. Negotiators adjourned at midnight with neither side commenting after the session.

Involved are 13,000 milk plant employees and deliverymen who belong to five locals of the union. A walkout would affect the milk supply of 12 million persons in New York City, Long Island, Westchester and Rockland counties, Northern New Jersey, and Fairfield County, Conn.

Present pay ranges from $100 to $150 a week. The industry has offered a package offer of $7.40 a week for plant employees and $5.40 per week for route men. The union originally asked increases ranging from $8 to $12 weekly.

FOR SUPERINTENDENT OF HIGHWAYS

To My Voting Friends in the Town of Ulster:

Due to the many obligations that the Superintendent of Highways has, it has been impossible for me to call at each house in the Town.

As you know, the Town has many new faces and I would have liked to talk with each of you and explain the duties of the Highway Superintendent. Today, with our many new developments and extra miles of roads, one of the most important duties of the Highway Superintendent is the removal of snow. This alone needs experienced supervision. In the past fourteen years as Town Superintendent, I have had men out at all hours of the night and day to see that the roads were open to traffic, making it possible for you who work for a living to be at your jobs on time.

I say to you, how could an inexperienced person cope with this problem? Ladies and gentlemen, stop and think this over before you vote and when you do, vote Row A all the way.

Respectfully yours,

A BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

These are swift moving times and to keep abreast of things today a community must elevate its sights and move forward.

In the City of Kingston one week from today, the people will go to the polls and elect officials who will conduct the business of the city for the next two years. This is a growing community and there will be continuous demands for more services. These services will cost money—the taxpayers' money. This is the important issue in this local political campaign.

The taxpayers are interested in tax rates—city and school—and water rates, city debts, assessments, city-town cooperation, urban renewal, street improvements, sewers, parking, traffic conditions and other municipal business for which the people are taxed.

The business of the City of Kingston is big business and we must have a solid and substantial business administration if we are to have efficient, economical and progressive government.

The Republican Party has selected two businessmen to head the ticket this election. They are Addison D. Jones for mayor and Gerald F. Conrad for alderman-at-large. Mr. Jones is a truly successful businessman having built up one of the largest dairy businesses in the city from very small beginnings. Down through the years, he also has been very active in the civic and philanthropic work of the city and county. Mr. Jones will give the city the complete benefit of his business acumen and the same full effort he gave his own successful business, which will be taken over by his two sons.

Mr. Conrad, who has been a resident of Kingston for the past 22 years, has the background and training for a capable city official. In Johnson City he was labor rate adjustor and wage coordinator for the Endicott Johnson Corporation. Before entering the Air Force, he was employed by the Dairylea Cooperative Association. For the past eight years, he has been employed by IBM here, where presently he is production analyst in the Production Control Department. Mr. Conrad will be a valuable public servant.

KHS Jayvees Win, 40-6, Over Pioneers

Hurley Gridders Still Unbeaten; Fiore Scores Twice

Completely dominating play, Kingston High School's jayvee gridders overpowered Poughkeepsie, 40-6, yesterday under sun baked skies at the Bridge City gridiron. Coach Bill Hurley's Maroons show two wins, a tie and no losses for the season with a game next week against New York Military Academy completing the schedule.

Fancy stepping Bruce Fiore got the locals reeling in the first period when he ambled 70 yards on a quick opener. Bruce then plunked for the extra point.

The home side came back to score a TD with two long passes being featured in the march. The score came on a run from the two on third down.

Quarterback John Falvey passed 35 yards to Clarence Redd for another KHS score late in the second period and Falvey went over for the point on a quarterback sneak. That closed the scoring for the first half though Poughkeepsie was within a yard of the Kingston goal. A good stand thwarted the Pioneers.

In the third quarter, Clarence Walker raced 60 yards for a touchdown and Fiore tallied again on a six yard run. Walker ran for the point after the second score.

A 40 yard scamper through the middle by Brown gave KHS a fourth quarter score and Mike Ferraro closed the score for the afternoon with a five yard scamper on a quick opener. George Tomson made the PAT.

Kingston starters were Redd, Montala, Rifenbury, Gruner, Duffy, Fitzgerald, Hatcher, Falvey, Fiore, Walker and Brown.

Reserves were M. Duffy, T. Gardner, Donion, Fertel, McLeod, Mula, Eckbach, Dickert, Tomson, Brodhead, M. Ferraro, Garraghan and Werboalowsky.

Scoring by periods:

Poughkeepsie .. 0 6 0 6

Carbo Pleads Guilty To Some Ring Charges

NEW YORK (AP)—Hoodlum Frankie Carbo, shadowy survivor of many an old-time gang war, pleaded guilty Friday to having an undercover role in boxing. He long has been tabbed as a rackets czar of the professional ring.

Carbo's capitulation marked the first time in more than 30 years that authorities were able to hang a rap on the 55-year-old mobster, known to the underworld as "Mr. Gray." Back in 1928, he served 20 months for manslaughter in the killing of a cab driver.

He faces up to three years on three counts to which he pleaded guilty before his second trial day opened in General Sessions court. Seven other counts were dismissed.

Arrested 5 Times

Five times Carbo has been arrested on murder charges without being convicted. Once reportedly a gunman for the old Murder, Inc., kill-for-pay mob, he figured in gang warfare in the '30s involving such as beer baron Waxey Gordon and West Coast gangster Bugsy Siegel.

Carbo appeared pale and thin as he arose in General Sessions court on elevator shoes with which he enhances his 5-foot-8 height. He pleaded guilty to conspiracy, managing a boxer without a license and unlicensed matchmaking.

A diabetic, the ravages of disease and prosecution have marred his once handsome features, surmounted by a thatch of silver hair. He was remanded to a Rikers Island Hospital—where he can be treated for diabetes—pending sentencing Nov. 30.

Jury Not In

An all-male jury had yet to enter the courtroom for the second day of Carbo's trial when he entered his plea. When the panel was brought in, Judge John A. Mullin told them:

"Your presence here has been a most effective lever in convincing the defendant he ought to be realistic. He pleaded guilty. I have set sentencing for Nov. 30, at which time I shall have a probation report."

Carbo was questioned recently about the tangled promotional background of last June's heavyweight championship bout in which Ingemar Johansson dethroned Floyd Patterson. The ramifications behind the match have yet to be traced.

In his guilty plea, Carbo admitted:

Conspiracy in acting as undercover agent for boxers openly managed by Hymie (The Mink) Wallman, who once held a manager's license.

An undercover manager's role in a non-title welterweight fight here Feb. 21 between Jimmy Peters and George Chimenti.

Had Both Fighters

Matchmaking without a license the welterweight title elimination bout here Mar. 21 between Virgil Akins and Isaacs Logart. The state contended that Carbo had both fighters in his pocket and laid down terms of the match to the now-defunct International Boxing Club, ostensibly in charge of the bout.

Except for the manslaughter, rap, Carbo bore a charmed life until he was indicted in July, 1958, for his undercover ring activities. He promptly vanished and it was not until last Memorial Day that he was flushed out of hiding in a friend's house in southern New Jersey.

After his indictment here, state and federal tax charges were brought against him, involving more than a million dollars. They are still pending.

City Baseball Assn. Plans Meeting Wednesday at Elks

Members of the steering and advisory committees of the Kingston Community Baseball Assn. will meet Wednesday, 8 p.m., at the Elks Club. Final reports will be made on ticket sales and donations made to defray operating expenses during the past season.

Fred Davi, General Manager of the Braves, said plans will also be formulated for next season. The Braves finished second in the New York-New Jersey League this past season and played some exciting baseball throughout the year. Davi said the fans can expect the same from the players during 1960.

Material support of the ball club exceeded that of other years, but like other organizations faced with today's economy, operating expenses were higher and appeals for season ticket subscriptions fell far short of funds necessary. Because of those problems, the Community Baseball Assn. was formed.

Leading citizens in Kingston served on the committee and it is hoped they will be able to attend the meeting on Wednesday night.

Packers, Giants to Resume Famed Grid Rivalry Sunday

Loss of Gifford Hits Giants; Colts Picked to Beat Browns

BY MURRAY OLDERMAN
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (NEA)—On Saturday, Frank Gifford woke up at 20 minutes to 9 to find little Vicki, 2½, had crawled into bed with him.

Maxine Gifford was already up, turning the French toast in the kitchen. Still in his pajamas, Frank looked out the window and saw the left field stands of Yankee Stadium. His eighth floor apartment in the Concourse Plaza gave him a good view.

After breakfast he threw an extra shirt, shaving equipment and a shoe-shine kit into a small bag and made ready to leave.

You can't find a place to get a shine in Pittsburgh on Sunday.

He was off on a business trip like any other working stiff.

Vicki blurted, "Daddy go bye-bye."

Kyle, 4, knew it had something to do with Daddy and football.

Jeff, 8, shrugged, "Aw, he's going to play the Steelers."

"He's getting hep," Frank winked. "Hanging out with the older kids."

By 9:30, he was already in the New York Giants team bus outside the Stadium, just a couple of blocks down from the hotel.

It sped across Long Island to Idlewild Airport and an hour later he was airborne, settled in a seat next to Charley Conerly.

Charley and Frank are road roommates. They don't talk much unless prodded.

In Pittsburgh, they put on sweat tags for a brief workout at 2 o'clock, then relaxed at Carlton House while Purdue and Iowa slogged it out in the rain on TV. Early dinner, just two of them, at a steak house next door, then watching shoot 'em-ups on TV until they turned in for the next day's work.

McHan has winged eight TD passes while completing 43 of 91. Hornung, a triple-threat, shows 319 yards rushing and 87 on pass receptions. Knafele and McGee have caught 14 and 11, respectively.

Tunell Going Strong

Another old Giant, 12-year vet Em Tunell, is one of the key men in the Packer defense. He and Bobby Dillon give Green Bay 20 years' experience at safety.

Em was sold to Charley last spring and seems to have undergone a rejuvenation under Lombardi.

Going into this rugged encounter with the fire-dodging Packers, the Giants find themselves minus the services of star halfback Frank Gifford, and with such other stalwarts as quarterback George Shaw and end Kyle Rote definitely below par.

Gifford is out with a torn rib cartilage and both Shaw and Rote are hobbled by bad knees.

Gifford's loss is a serious blow but it is hoped by Howell that Rote's return will bolster the passing attack. With Kyle in there, the heat will be off other receivers like Bob Schenkel and halfback Alex Webster.

Webster, rookie Joe Morrison,

Phil King and fullback Mel Triplett will shoulder the ball-carrying chores while Gifford is sidelined.

Charlie Conerly, the NFL's leading passer with 58 for 93 and a 60.2 average, may go the distance (as he did versus Los Angeles and Cleveland) if Shaw is unable to play.

Chuckin' Charlie is off to one of the best starts in his 12-year-career with 885 yards and four TD passes.

Seconds later, the Giants fell on a fumble at the Steeler 28. Gifford went back to work on the flank. Again he raced downfield, cut in under the goal posts and plucked off Charley's long pass.

Two plays, two touchdowns. It was almost a day's work. Except that later Frank fell down catching a pass on the six-yard line. He fell on the ball. Somehow it tore a cartilage shielding his 10th rib. Doc Sweeney gave him a shot.

Frank tried to get up. He thought he could still play. He fainted. They took him back to the hotel on a stretcher. On that same stretcher he boarded the team plane with the other guys. They'd won a tough game but no one was whooping it up. Gifford dozed fitfully in the aisle.

Whenever he opened his eyes, he muttered, "Just my luck. I could have beaten Albany all day long, maybe caught a dozen."

When the plane landed in New York, an ambulance was waiting.

It was the end of a business trip.

Frisco to Meet Detroit Lions In NFL Contest

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

The pre-season rap on the San Francisco 49ers was age.

Age meant Y. A. Tittle, Billy Wilson and Joe Perry, all tested veterans but all 32 years old. Then along came J. D. Smith (26), Tommy Davis (24) and Lenny Lyles (23) to add youth to the offense.

Also rookies Dave Baker and Eddie Dove, both 22, along with Abe Woodson, a 24-year-old sophomore.

So suddenly the '49ers have become the '59ers as they carry a 4-1 record and a share of the Western Conference lead into Sunday's game against the visiting Detroit Lions. San Francisco is a 7-point favorite.

Defending NFL champion Baltimore, also 4-1 in the West, rates 7½ points better than the Cleveland Browns of the Eastern Conference at Baltimore. The Green Bay Packers invade New York, where the Giants (4-1) are favored by 7.

Rams Favored

The Chicago Bears play at Los Angeles to complete the Western schedule, with the Rams favored by 6½. The Rams (2-3) are in fourth place a game behind Green Bay (3-2) and a game ahead of the Bears and Lions (both 1-4).

The Philadelphia Eagles, tied for second in the East with Cleveland at 3-2, are favored by 7 over Washington, and the Pittsburgh Steelers, the only road favorite of the day, get the nod by 3½ over the Chicago Cards. The Steelers and Redskins are tied for fourth with 3-2 marks, while the Cards are 1-4.

Fernandez Gets Second Straight Win Over Ortega

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Florentino Fernandez, the Cuban Ox, wants to fight welterweight champion Don Jordan and ex-champ Carmen Basilio.

Teddy Brenner, Madison Square Garden matchmaker, already has arranged a Jan. 22 non-title match between Jordan and the latest Cuban whiz. He is working on a Basilio match at 150 pounds.

"We like it," said Fernandez and his manager, Higinio Ruiz. Friday night after a split decision victory over Mexico's Gaspar Ortega. They were referring to the two proposed matches.

"I think Jordan would be easier than Ortega," said Fernandez. "Ortega moves more and I don't think Jordan can take a punch as good as he can."

Ortega in Tears

The unhappy Mexican was in tears after dropping another split decision. The welter (Ortega weighed 147 to Fernandez' 146) thought he won. So did his managers, Jimmy Stinson and Nick Corby and his trainer, Freddy Brown. But only one official agreed. Referee Al Berl called it for Ortega 5-4-1. Judge Frank Forbes (6-2-2) and Judge Jack Gordon (5-4-1) voted for Fernandez.

The AP card was 6-3-1 for Fernandez. Of 14 ringside writers 12 thought the Cuban won, one called it a draw and one favored Ortega.

For the first time in 22 winning fights, Fernandez failed to drop his opponent at least once. He had Ortega on the deck twice Sept. 11 when he won a unanimous decision at Miami Beach. The Cuban has scored 18 knockouts.

TWYMAN Scores 47 As Royals Bow

Jay Twyman scored 47 points for the Cincinnati Royals in their game with the Syracuse Nationals Friday night, but it was in a lost cause.

The Nats, taking an early lead, defeated the Royals in their National Basketball Assn. game at Cincinnati 136-127 to grab third place in the Eastern Division.

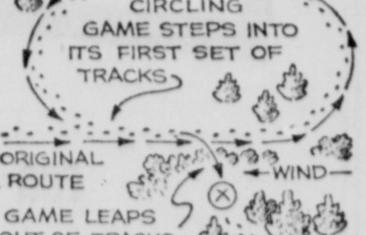

Twyman was a one-man show, and in the first three periods he scored 41 points.

The winning Nationals divided their scoring well. Larry Costello was high for the team with 29 points, but Johnny Kerr got 22. Dolph Schayes 21 and Bob Hopkins 20.

Costello led the Nationals to a 73-64 half-time lead, and although Cincinnati narrowed the gap to five points in the third period it never could get closer.

Hunger, Disease Threats Plaguing Storm Survivors

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Twin threats of hunger and disease hung over thousands of survivors in the hurricane and flood-stricken Mexican States of Colima and Jalisco today.

500 Bodies Recovered

Officials feared the final death count from Tuesday's giant storm, and the floods that followed may reach 1,500. More than 500 bodies already have been recovered.

Large sections of the disaster area are still isolated. High waters blocked roads to many outlying villages, and residents had to depend on air drops by light planes and helicopters for food and medical supplies.

Tent villages were hastily thrown up to take care of the injured and homeless in the two hardest hit communities—the Pacific port of Manzanillo and the mining town of Minatitlan.

Mothers After Tragedy

Po'keepsie Man Loses Life in Route 9 Collision

Mr. Javier de la Riva, an official of the Federal Health Ministry, estimated that at least 800 of Minatitlan's 1,350 residents had been killed. A large part of the town, 24 miles northwest of the state capital of Colima, was buried under mountain slides.

Officials said nearly 300 bodies had been counted in Manzanillo, where an estimated 60 per cent of the homes were crushed by the storm. The port city has a population of 15,000.

Medical teams inoculated long lines of Manzanillo residents for tetanus and typhoid. They gave vaccine injections to many others who had been stung by scorpions. Thousands of scorpions were driven from their nests in flood-crushed adobe walls.

U.S. Vice Consul Robert Schuler reported that all 21 Americans and three Canadian tourists known to be in Manzanillo were unharmed.

Week's Business in Review

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A cliff-hanger of epic proportions and consequences kept the people of business and finance teetering on the edges of their seats this week.

The movie "Perils of Pauline" never had as many brink-of-climax episodes as the Great Steel Strike.

Many facets of the economy turned, or failed to turn, on developments in efforts to settle the strike.

Business World on Edge

As they popped up these questions kept the business world on edge:

Will renewed negotiations produce a voluntary settlement?

Will the Supreme Court send the steelworkers back to the mills for 80 days? If so, then what?

The New York stock market displayed cautious optimism that things would come out all right.

Trading volume was 19,104,818, the biggest since 21,612,740 shares were traded in the week ended March 21.

Bond trading totaled $32,247,000 par value compared with $26,191,000 the previous week and $31,816,000 a year ago.

Big Steel Losses

Steel companies, strikebound through all but two weeks of the third quarter, came out with earning reports. U.S. Steel reported a loss of $31,100,000. Other big losses were $38,900,000 for Bethlehem and $16,400,000 for Jones & Laughlin.

The Pennsylvania Railroad, the nation's largest, blamed the strike for a $2,281,792 loss in September.

Its car loadings were off 15.2 per cent.

News from the automobile industry was good and bad.

General Motors reported earnings for the third quarter of nearly $134,400,000 on sales of $2,345,000. Profit was more than double that of the 1958

Slate Lecture On Carpenter
Sculpture Nov. 4

Benjamin Karp, professor of art education at the State University College of Education, New Paltz, will present an illustrated lecture on "Carpenter Sculpture in the Hudson Valley," in the College Union Building, Wednesday at 8 p.m.

The lecture, the final major program in the college's year of activities in observance of the 350th Hudson-Champlain Celebration, is open to the public free of charge.

Photographs showing examples of this sculpture will be exhibited from November 4 to 24 in the College Union Building, and the general public is invited to see the exhibit at any time.

All of the photographs in the exhibit were taken by Professor Karp himself, and he has photographed the work as he sees it—not merely as an architectural decoration, but as a three-dimensional art form. He refers to the art form as "sawn sculpture,"—sculpture done with a scroll saw.

This type of sculptural ornamentation has long been of interest to Karp, and he feels that the photographic exhibit will help to stimulate interest in preserving and recording this typically American art form. His research in the field is the basis of an illustrated article entitled "Fantasy in Wood," scheduled for early publication in American Heritage.

Although this art form is found in many places in the United States, the photographs to be exhibited were taken in New York State, particularly in Dutchess and Ulster Counties. The earliest example of the Art form dates from 1838, and it was discovered in Ulster County.

"Let the rich pay the cost of government." How often some politician with a brass voice and a shoestring tie has told us that. Worse, how many have believed it as they voted for Senators and Congressmen who dish out the money to "the little fellow." Somebody once figured it out that there are 51 taxes in the price of a loaf of bread. How wrong he was!

The Tax Foundation says a loaf of bread has 151 taxes in it. The land that grows the wheat is taxed, and the seed, the plows and reapers and trucks, the gasoline that powers them, down to the fuel that cooks the dough, and the wrapper around the loaf.

And so on, up to 151.

Your suit of clothes has 116 taxes hidden in the price, and your new house has about 600 taxes before you sign the mortgage.

How much do you pay? I don't know, but I'll

E. F. Hutton make a guess that won't be far off first base.

The Tax Foundation estimates that the average family pays in taxes about 34% of its income.

If a family has an income of $7,500, that's $2,550. On a 40-hour week, or 2,000 hours a year, the tax is more than a dollar an hour.

And it wasn't more than a million years ago when a wage earner made $1.00 a day, and gradually paid off the mortgage.

The Colossus of Rhodes, a bronze statue of Helios, sun god, was about 105 feet tall and stood on the island of Rhodes. It was made from the melted bronze weapons and instruments left behind by the Macedonian army retiring from the siege of Rhodes in 305 B.C. After requiring 12 years to finish, the statue only stood until 224 B.C., when it was destroyed by a quake.

November to Be Colder Than Usual Over Much of U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — November weather is going to be colder than usual for much of the nation.

The Weather Bureau reported this Friday in its long-range forecast, saying:

"The 30-day outlook for November calls for temperatures to average below seasonal normals over most of the area lying between the Appalachians and the Rockies except for near normal along the Gulf Coast and Southeast. Greatest departures are indicated for the central Plains."

Above normal temperature averages are predicted for California, near normal for the Pacific Northwest, and below normal for the southern Plateau region.

Precipitation is expected to exceed normal over most of the nation except along central and northern portions of the West Coast where subnormal amounts

Damage Will Run High as Result Of West Storms

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — A freakish outburst of violent weather subsided across the West today while officials figured up damages which will run into millions of dollars.

At least three people were dead and 10 were hurt after violent windstorms lashed across northern Utah and southern California and flash floods drenched sections of central Arizona. An icy sheet of snow covered the eastern slopes of the Rockies and parts of the Western Plains states.

Worst Floods Since '51

Two children drowned in flash floods described as the worst to hit central Arizona since 1951. The snowstorm left 6 to 15½ inches of snow in the eastern Rockies.

The tornadic winds in Utah howled off the Wasatch Mountain Range and caused widespread damage in a heavily populated region from Salt Lake City 75 miles north to Tremonton, on the Utah-Idaho border.

Wind Tropes Houses

At least 10 people were hurt in Utah as winds of up to 92 miles per hour toppled houses, uprooted trees and smashed thousands of windows. A dozen truck and trailer rigs were flipped over. State police halted truck, bus and small car traffic for several hours on open highways.

Winds of hurricane force accompanied a freak weather pattern in southern California. Rain, hail, snow and lightning storms uprooted trees in Los Angeles County. Cotton crops in the lush Imperial Valley suffered damage estimated at a quarter of a million dollars.

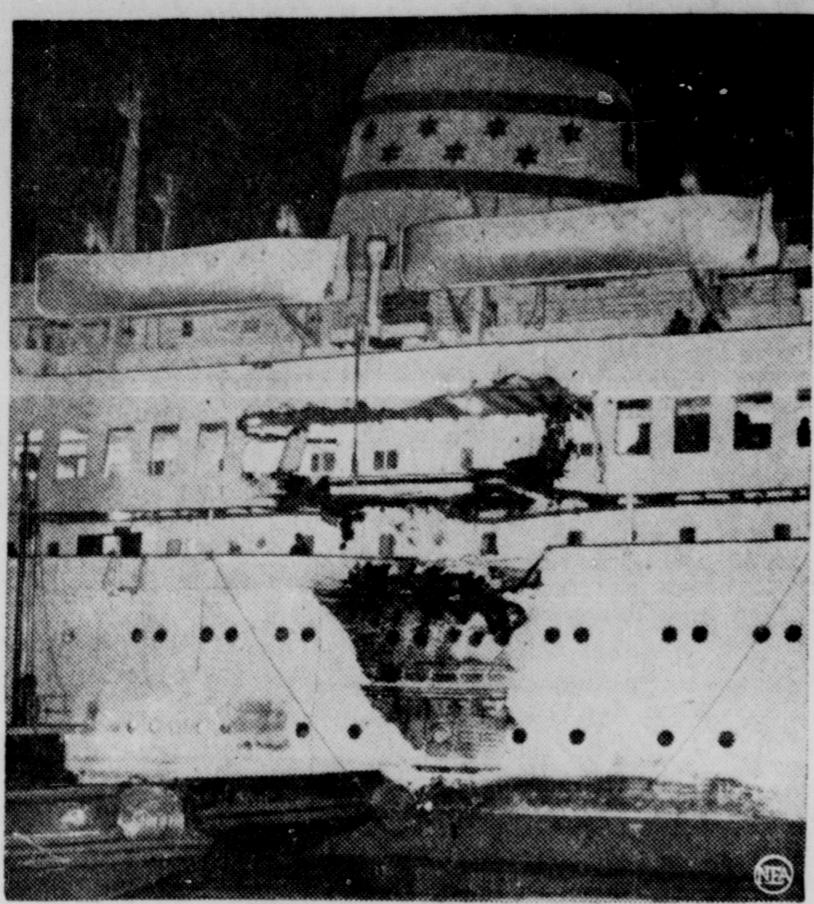

High winds fanned a score of fires in northern California forests. An estimated 16,000 acres burned and threatened some highways, closing U.S. 50. One woman was killed when a tree fell onto a pickup truck in the High Sierra.

Snows were clearing today in Colorado and Wyoming, but sub-freezing temperatures during the night left an icy coating of snow.

Sharp Decline

In the past two decades there has been a sharp decline in the average patient's hospital stay. Twenty years ago, the Health Information Foundation says, the average stay was 12.5 days. Now it's only 8.6 days.

are in prospect. Owing to the expected unseasonable coldness sleet and snow storms are expected to be more frequent than normal over the northern half of the area lying between the Appalachians and the Continental Divide."

COLLISION DAMAGES SHIP — The passenger liner Israel, anchoring in New York harbor, shows gash on port side of its hull running from the waterline to boat deck. The damage was caused by a collision with the U. S. freighter American Press near the Statue of Liberty late Oct. 29. The American Press suffered a damaged bow. No one was injured, but one member of the Israel's crew is reported missing. (NEA Telephoto)

Church Merger Near For Unitarians and Universalist Groups

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Unitarians and Universalists today neared a goal they have sought for nearly a century—a unified church formed in May 1961.

Representatives of the two religiously diversified denominations have approved the plan and were putting finishing touches on a joint constitution and bylaws.

Would Erase Boundary

Unitarian President Dr. Dana McLean Greeley said the merger would erase the "boundary that has artificially divided us and should spur the movement in erasing boundaries that divide the world."

In a similar vein, the Rev. Dr. Philip Giles, Universalist general superintendent, told a dinner session Friday night:

"It seems that we have here given witness to the desirability of that human relationship that we hope will be the hallmark of our world."

Independent thinking delegates put through scores of amendments to an advance constitution draft, before approving it item by item, with some sections causing keen debate.

Strongest feelings were aroused by decisions to omit any reference to Jesus from the church charter, thus severing specific ties to Christianity.

No Mention of Jesus

As set forth, the church union was dedicated to spreading "universal truths taught by the great prophets and teachers of humanity in every age and tradition."

There was no mention of Jesus who, in the past has been singled out for special attention in church affirmations.

Another strong—but unsuccessful—effort to restore this emphasis came late Friday night. The Rev. George Marshall of Niagara Falls, N. Y., called it "the single most important" issue at stake.

But the assembly refused to reconsider.

"To bring to the floor something that has been overwhelmingly defeated three times is beyond the bounds of all reason in any democratic process," said the Rev. James Madison Barr of Albany.

Must Stand Our Ground

"We've taken our position on a new platform . . ." said the Rev. Ralph F. Fuchs of Bloomington, Ind. "We should stand on our ground."

Opponents of the delegation argued that it divorced the movement from its Christian parent. The Rev. Mr. Walter D. Kring, of New York City, said it would alienate "millions of Americans."

Dr. Giles and Dr. Greeley said in a joint statement:

"We do not disavow our Judeo-Christian heritage but affirm the universality of all real religion, and recall the words of Jesus, 'Not He that saith unto me Lord, Lord, but He that doeth the will of my father shall enter the Kingdom of Heaven.'"

Differences Guarded

Differences of belief is a jealously guarded right among Unitarians and Universalists, with various views held about Jesus. Some consider him simply as one of many great religious teachers.

Let Down Anchor To Avoid Mishap, Captain Reveals

NEW YORK (AP)—The captain of an American freighter says he dropped anchor in an effort to avert a collision with the liner Israel near the Statue of Liberty Thursday night.

Capt. George Arlington Vickers of the United States Lines freighter American Press was the first witness to appear before a Coast Guard hearing Friday.

Vickers said he blew a warning signal, ordered half astern, then full astern and the anchor dropped in a vain effort to avert the collision. The freighter ripped a gash in the liner Israel extending from below the waterline to her upper deck.

The 10,000-ton Israel, with 264 passengers and a crew of 146 on board, was outward bound for the Mediterranean. Built in 1955, the ship is operated by Zim Israel Navigation Co. Ltd., of Haifa. A crewman, Chaim Benites, is missing.

The 8,000-ton freighter, with a crew of 48 and two passengers, was moving from a Brooklyn pier to one in Manhattan. Damage was too slight to delay her departure for British ports. But the Israel returned to New York for repairs that may take up to two weeks. Her passengers transferred to other ships and to airlines.

Cancer Society Names Svirskey Finance Chairman

An Ulster Park man, George Svirskey after hearing praises for his successful 1959 Cancer Crusade, was again named finance chairman to head the 1960 campaign.

The Ulster County unit reached 129 per cent of its 1959 quota under the guidance of Svirskey.

The announcement of his reappointment was made at a board of directors dinner meeting at Leherb's Restaurant earlier this week.

Dr. John L. Alley, newly elected president of Ulster County unit welcomed the new members to the board and expressed his appreciation for the large attendance.

Police Chief Robert F. Murphy today advised boys and girls in the city to enjoy themselves, but not to become engaged in any acts of vandalism.

The nation-wide Cancer Prevention Study was discussed by Mrs. Paul Wendrow, unit secretary, who explained the aims, method and scope of the study, and asked that the board members cooperate in this largest health study ever attempted.

It was unanimously decided to hold the next meeting on March 10. Mrs. Arthur Freeman, county director, offered her home in Port Ewen for the meeting.

Following the meeting, a supper was served at which all in attendance were guests of Dr. Alley.
